

Spiritual Beggars, Magnificent Obsession

Who said death must be sad?
Let's go together, take my hand Don't call me mad now 'cos I said so I'll carry you across the deep black river

And as I lay you down on the fresh green grass I'll kiss your bloodred lips...

You know when night turns to day and your head feels tired 'n heavy When black and white emotions turn to boring grey

We're together now and forever we won't come back, no never We're together now and forever
we won't come back... No...
