Spiritual Front, First Love Never Dies

All at once I miss you So long since I've kissed you How I love to look into your eyes Yes I still dream about you My world is lost without you For you are my first love, and First love never ever dies Whenever I feel lonely I'm thinking of you only One last kiss and then we said goodbye The love I left behind me Comes back to remind me That you were my first love, and First love never ever dies The love I left behind me Comes back to remind me That you were my first love, and First love never ever dies And if you're thinking of me And you find that you still love me There's no use to go on living lies Let's hurry to each other For there could be no other Yes, you were my first love, and First love never ever dies First love never ever dies
