

SpiRitual, You Believe

You try and fail, slip and fall

No breath, no move, no vision clear
Stay strong and true, your day will come

No need to hide, be all that you can be
For the morning is yours

Find and break the surface
Cause you believe
Banish what you fear
Fly, your heart is burning
Cause you believe

You hunt the silence, corrupt the dark
Refuse another cold night

Devil's in your words
You still hold your past inside
You are so forlorn
Escape the plague, reawake

Smile and live your wonders wild and free
Remove this pain that stings like a knife
Endure the storms with faith and trust
Throw your arms open and fall
