

Spitfire, Please Don't Go Out Tonight

my heart is breaking in two i'm never good enough for you sometimes i wish i never had you they put hands over your eyes and told you that you were blind they've turned the words of Christ against you i have nothing to offer but a heart that is hurting (thats all i've got, that's all i want) i have nothing to offer i never needed anyone to tell me i'm a sinner let's go!
she is doing all she can do to hold back her tears writing down her thoughts and calling out for answers as she goes unnoticed
(i never needed anyone to tell me i'm a sinner) cast your stones at each other
i have nothing to offer but a heart that is hurting (that's all i've got, that's all i want)