

Split Shift, Forget

And if you see me standing there
Empty thoughts your mind so bare
I turned my head as you looked at me
It felt so bad but it had to be
Shambled life my heart just swayed
In the eyes of one that I have made
I turned my head as you looked at me
It felt so bad but it had to be

I cant believe you left me in the end
And all this time I thought we were friends
Why don't you just let things be
Hoping you will forget me

Months ago you changed for the worst
You held me back I died of thirst
Your mother spoke to me so cold
And the endless fights now we're alone

Hoping you will forget me
