

Splittr, All Alone

I dont feel like going home...without you

I dont feel like going home... All Alone

I dont feel like going home...

Turn Three-sixty, spin my head around, nearly did my back in just to catch your eye.

Tryin to tell you something, still cant spit it out, better keep my mouth shut till we say goodbye.

We get closer, touch and hit it off, but before I knew it you up and leave me, bolted to the the door, now I cant stop myself screamin out your name.

I dont feel like going home...without you

I dont feel like going home...All Alone.

I dont feel like going home...without you

I dont feel like going home...All Alone...

We get closer, touch and hit it off, but before I knew it you up and leave me, bolted to the the door, Now I cant stop myself screaming out your name.

I dont feel like going home...without you

I dont feel like going home...All Alone

I dont feel like going home...without you

I dont feel like going home...All Alone...

I dont feel like going home, I dont really feel like going home.

I dont feel like going home, I dont really feel like going home... I dont

I dont feel like going home, I dont really feel like going home.

I dont feel like going home..All Alone.
