

Sponge Cola, On The Floor

The doorknob smiles at me alone
But I will open the door again
I've seen this happening before
I've seen myself fall face first on the floor
Crash and burn

On the floor
As I crash and burn

So used to lying on the floor
And now I'm sinking
Unable to give in anymore
And now I'm sinking

Forever envelopes my days
Gasping for air as I look for an escape
I'm drowning in a letter made to stay
I took one look away
And so I turn
Crash and burn on the floor
So I turn
Crash and burn
The Strong's too weak to hurt the weak
Must be strong enough to leave
And I can't function properly
I'm lying here
Lying here

And so I turn
Crash and burn
On the floor
So I turn
Crash and burn

Can you hear me talking?
Can you see me there?
I'm not getting anything from you
Can you hear my whispers?
Can you see me there?
'Coz I'd be lost
I'd be lost without you