

Sponge, Mekron Bomb

Well she was clearly nervous cause she asked me if she could drive
And I knew how did I know she had been drinking
And I always could read between the lines
Well I was clearly nervous cause there was Something that I had neglected
It was obvious she could see right through me
But we made love so unprotected
Mekron bomb gone forever
Mekron bomb forever gone
Got me nervous, dropped it on my head
Well she was clearly nervous
Something weighed heavy on her mind
But I was cool I knew what was coming
And doors ain't hard to find
