

Sponge, My Baby Said

She was a waitress but convinced
She had been a dead movie star reincarnated to live the live of a queen But the real scars she was nursing were not from her man but from her beast of burden because in real life she could not live her dreams

All day long he drove a cab for 30 years he was the man take you anywhere that you pleased And for 30 years he was amazed he took care of his wife and her bad legs, he thought he lived a life like a machine And he hoped he could have been the drummer man in some great big band that would drive the world wild with his beat

(and oh yeah)
Baby said that
She always been a dreamer

She ain't scared with her hands up in the air she shows the world she's a super star can't you see.
Are stars made or are they born she's glamorous but so unknown and she's always so well recieved and easy to love and easy to please

Baby said that
She always been a dreamer
