

Spoon, Change My Life

Car culture looks out at you driving through friday night on your own you dont have to please me or pick up my tab dont have to go too fast just change my life
change my life
i miss that way you hold yourself i miss the sense of wonder inside dont want to be your victim for life dont want your exclusive rights i just want you to change my life
change my life
