

Spoon, Chips And Dip

When shes got to say goodbye after staying out late on a weeknight and i walk home the side of the road under industrial lights it can be such a shame how short the night and day all that ive been for so long is trying to get right but sometimes i cant make myself shuck and jive perfections on her tongue rolls out in monotone
oh yeah yeah
thats when the heartache goes and i do the same you know i do the same you know heres the final row
its just you cant see it chips and dip
when shes got to say goodbye staying out late on a weeknight sometimes i cant make myself shuck and jive cause where the heartache goes i do the same you know
oh yeah yeah
