

Spoons, Shaking The Fear

Out of the west on the freeway
A single black car is driving down the coast
Out of the east on the airwaves
Picking me up its on the radio
Its heading back home
But Im ready this time
Take me away...

Im shaking the fear
Putting the fire out the one thats burning
Burning me up for you

Out of the north on a cold front
Freezing me up just to melt me down
Out of the south on a heatwave
Pounding my heart making me fall for you
Its heading back home
But Im ready this time
Take me away...

Im shaking the fear
Putting the fire out the one thats burning
Burning me up for you
Im shaking the fear
I dont think that Im afraid of you
But something makes me wanna walk away

Through the hazy in my car
Ive got my highbeams on
In the land of the lost

Im shaking the fear
Putting the fire out the one thats burning
Burning me up for you
Im shaking the fear
I dont think that Im afraid of you
But something makes me wanna run away

Im shaking the fear
Putting the fire out the one thats burning
Burning me up for you
