

Sportswear, Another Night To Remember

These hungry faces in a dark and smokey room,
These conversations in the night.
I don't remember what I'm doing here with you,
Watching the shadows and the light.

Maybe you're thinking I'll be easy later on,
I'm not a lady when I'm high.
Tonight's half over, and tomorrow will come,
So many ways to say goodbye.

Another night to remember,
And we'll go where the night goes,
There's really nothing more to say
Another face to remember,
And we'll stay while the night stays.
It doesn't matter any way,
Hold me tight and drift away.

(Another place to be) Maybe we've always been together
(Another melody) I just want to spend the night forever
(The night will always be blue) Loving you
