

Sprung Monkey, Laughing

I, I feel like laughing
And hey, I feel like laughing at you again 'cause
I, I feel like laughing
Since I left you
Since I left you, I

I said I been walking with my head up in the clouds
So afraid until you showed me how
But I woke up with a dream still in my head
Resting on the words I heard you speak

Peaceful people on the inside
It seems that they have a certain glow
And those angry people on the outside
It seems like their head is going to explode and

I, I feel like laughing
And hey, I feel like laughing at you again 'cause
I, I feel like laughing
Since I left you
Since I left you, I

I said why can't everybody get along
We waste far too much time putting others down
But you never seem to fill that empty hole
That's opened up inside your soul

Peaceful people on the inside
It seems that they have a certain glow
And those angry people on the outside
It seems like their head is going to explode and

I, I feel like laughing
And hey, I feel like laughing at you again 'cause
I, well I feel like laughing
Since I left you
Since I left you, I

Oh why, can't I feel anything
I've tried, but I can't cry about it
I, I feel like laughing
Since I left you
Since I left you

I, I feel like laughing
And hey, I feel like laughing at you again 'cause
I, well I feel like laughing
Since I left you
Since I left you, I
