

SR-71, Alone

Alone again tonight
And this empty time
The sound in my head
The sight it leaves me
Leaves me blind

I'll write a million words
I'll sing until it hurts
How far could this be Until it seems

How long will I let this go
I can't stand to spend another night alone
Alone

I stare at empty walls
I speak but no one hears
I make every accuse
To blame my fears

How long will I let this go
I can't stand to spend another night alone
Alone
Alone
Alone

And all these shadows come to rest
In my head
And I can't see you and I
I can't hear the things you say

There is a secret place
You'll find a blood stained red
It's there a future speaks
She spoke to me

How long will I let this go
I can't stand to spend another night,
another night alone
(can't stand to spend another night)
Alone
(can't stand to spend another night)
Alone
(can't stand to spend another night)
Alone
Oh no, not another night alone
(can't stand to spend another night)
Alone
(can't stand to spend another night)
Another night alone
(can't stand to spend another night)
Alone