

SR-71, She Was Dead

From the minute that I saw her she was different from the rest
But I didn't hear her talking I was staring at her chest
And I wish I would have listened cause I think I might have seen the signs
Now its been a couple months and I can't take another word
She's been pushing every button she's been working every nerve
I've got suttin she can swallow but its sure as hell's not my pride

::Chorus::

Yeah I know its just a waste of time
Soon i'm gonna run out of lies
So she'll just have to hear the truth instead
Everyday i'm gonna make her cry
'Til the minute that we say goodbye
And i'm gonna make her wish.....she was dead

I used to hang out with my homies getting stupid every night
'Til I met her and she chained me up to keep me out of sight
I gotta get away from her I think i'm runnig out of time
Cuz I think i'm gonna die whenever she's behind the wheel
And it drives me up the wall when she asks me how i feel
I don't really wanna talk so I tell her that i'm doing fine
Theres gotta be a way that I can get it through her head....

::Chorus::

Yeah I know its just a waste of time
Soon i'm gonna run out of lies
So she'll just have to hear the turth instead
Everyday i'm gonna make her cry
'Til the minute that we say goodbye
I'm gonna make her wish.... (she was dead)

I'm going crazy she won't let go
The leash gets tighter everyday
Already told her she's Miss Right Now
But I wish she was Miss Yesterday....

::repeat chorus 2x::
