

St. Simon 3, We're Gonna Get Along Fine

Maybe by now I should have guessed
It's not always good to be honest but there's something I've got to say
And it's just got to be this way

We're gonna get along fine
If we stay off each other's nerves

When it is all said and done
You're my particular poison
But something you may not know is Anything is lethal in large doses

I don't know how and I don't know why
I love you when you don't even try
But something that I can't explain
You give up something for everything that you gain

And by now I'm sure you must have guessed
That I am only human and sometimes even less

I am yours to push or shove
And I hope you will call that love
But sometimes there'll be no use cryin'
When that side's yours and this side's mine.
