

Stabilizer, False Start

i dig in the sand
to find out where it began
i forgot to breathe....
the waves cover my feet
its covering me

i pushed it away
a pitiful sigh once escaped where now there is strength to rinse away the stain

for this time here
is the last time i respond restrained
is the first time i have felt my face to belong here

to stay here
is what I've asked for
for my soul to belong here

no more accidents
no more false pretense

it doesn't matter now
finally brought down
i finally know how

miles away from where home used to be?
here finally i belong
