

Stabilizers, You Pull Me Down

Every day - I wake up out of breath
Things you said - can't be forgotten yet
So maybe you were right - maybe I've been swept away
As this rising tide is fed by another wave - another wave

You pull me down - as I begin to drown
You pull me down
You pull me down - until I can't be found
You pull me down

I can't run away - I've got no place to go
So I look inside - and I see you there alone
If you could ride along - with all my highs and lows
You might find a man - you thought you'd never know
You never know
