

Stage Dolls, Sorry (Is All I Can Say)

Yeah it cuts deep inside when it's over
And the look on your face tells it all
You were always the one that was waiting
Now I'm stuck with my back to the wall

Yeah I promised you goldrings and roses
And to do you in devils disguise
Yeah you thought you were holding an angel
Now the truth lies in front of you eyes

So would you if run I told you I loved you
Would you run if I asked you to stay
Would you cry if I said that I missed you
Sorry is all I can say

No I've done you no good as a lover
Still hunted by all memories
If the road I take leads nowhere
Then maybe that's where I wanna be

Well I promised you goldrings and roses
I gave to you all of my heart
I looked in the eyes of an angel
And now I don't know where to start

So, would you if run I told you I loved you
Would you run if I asked you to stay
Would you cry if I said that I missed you
Sorry is all I can say

Would you if run I told you I loved you
Would you run if I asked you to stay
Would you cry if I said that I missed you
Sorry is all I can say
