

Staggered Crossing, I Might Be Gone

There's a number in the kitchen
On a brand new cloth
Do you remember
Slow and gently
Tell me why
I don't want to be different
I got a mind of my own

The suns gonna shine for another day
I'm gonna see another rainbow
All in time

Well I dream about California lately,
About driving down the coast to L.A.
And I'm getting all bent out of shape
Now baby can't you hear me from miles away
I don't want to be perfect
Hell that's just blowin smoke
The suns gonna see another rainbow

All in time
Why don't you say something different
Why don't you gimme some advice
Cause if you look out your window I
Might be gone
I'm on top of a ladder, when I fall off I might get hurt
