

Staind, Take This

I can't believe how far I've come now watch me stumble and come undone if you take away these memories then all that's left is just me

Cause I don't want this and I don't need this and I don't feel this it seems that even though she's with me I can't shake this and I can't fake this and I won't take this anymore

So you choose to break my heart I should have seen this from the start I'm haunted by your apathy all that's left is killing me

Cause I don't want this
and I don't feel this
it seems that even though she's with me
I can't shake this
and I can't fake this

Do you believe that the way you choose to be I've always had to see the brighter side of this so I don't lose my faith now the sun has gone away it's getting colder every day so before I freeze to death there's something I should say

Cause I don't want this
it seems that even though she's with me
I can't shake this
and though you say you understand you still won't face this can't erase this I won't embrace this anymore
