Stairwell, What Happened To All The Romance?

I lit the candle for the evenings dinner table. Theres a dozen roses placed before you.

The orchestra is playing a piece so darling shall we dance? Serenade to the best This memory can last.

At the end we find ourselves at your doorstep. (doorstep) This is where we give a smile and a kiss goodnight. The modern day lovesong takes everything between.

The first glance at your eyes and its the first kiss of the scene. It reaches a point where theres no room for audrey and kelly.

What Happened to all the romance?

What happened to all the romance?

We lost it on the movie screen.

No more beauty and glamor it seems.

It goes with the scene on tv.

No more beauty and glamor to me.

The modern day love song takes everything between. The first glance of your eyes and its the first kiss of the scene. It reaches a point where theres no room for Audrey and Kelly.

What happened to all the romance?

What happened to all the romance?

We all, Go back to where we can find where the romance ends on a solid note repeat the line with that special shes got lips and dignity and every moment found was sweet to believe

Sweet heart (what happened to all the romance?) (x 5)