

Stakka Bo, Here We Go

Here we go again
here we go go go to the temple of consumption get your gear and start to spend here we go go go with total dedication

As some sort of prototyps I serve to be you see tomorrow's dream has never been part of me consume today and leave the rest behind you tomorrow's a surprise party buy a ticket too c'mon faster livin' faster live as fast as you're able you better eat the food while it's still hot on the table spend if you can the greens are burning in your pocket if you spend it right now you'll get as high as a rocket

Everything you don't use will loose it's value tomorrow consume to much today and you can always borrow this paradigm's the best one since the day of creation get your gear and shape up this is the ... ? shop till you drop has built this civilization don't believe what you hear 'bout the next generation if you go wth a lot of toys you'll slip away a happy man the greens are burning in you pockets just spend it whil you can

The moon and the stars they all look down on me and say there's a correlation between tomorrow and today I say you won't gain a thing on that sick repudiation we're right here right now that's the only situation you can't fool me we live on borrowed time so I spend the funds I have down to the nickel and dime check it in ceck it out it's not a matter of contention get your gear shape up and join the church of consumption

Use it in wear it out than throw it all away go get yourself a new one all you gotta do is pay because the more I will get the more I will own with a lot of things around me I won't never fell alone I work around the check just to earn my livin' and I wanna get I won't spend my funds on givin' now I'm acting irresponsible is that what you say hey somalia got my toaster just the other day
