

Standover Radio, Inconsiderate

(Let's go!)

All the little things are adding up today.
So, blow it back in my face, now.
For all those times you chose to fuck with my mind
And now you're leaving me behind

What about the sacrifices made in the name of love,
In the name of love
What about the promises you break?
So, what about me?
What about me?

So, I never thought I'd need change
Now I'm getting it anyway
For all those times you chose to fuck with my mind
And now you're leaving me behind

What about the sacrifices made in the name of love,
In the name of love
What about the promises you break?
So, what about me? What about me?

So, what about me and my life, what will you say
When you break my heart tonight?
I still need you in my life
I still need you in my life

(Guitar solo)

What about the sacrifices made in the name of love in the name of love?
What about the promises you break? So what about me?
What about me?
