

Stanisław Soyka, Love You Madly

Love you madly, right or wrong
Sounds like the lyric of the song
But since it's so I thought you ought to know
I love you, love you madly

Better fish are in the sea
That's not a theory for me
But that's for sure just like I said before
I love you, love you madly

If you could see the happy you and me
I dream about so proudly
You'd know the breath of spring makes me sing
My love song so loudly

Good things come to those who wait
So just relax and wait for fate
To let me see the day you say to me
I love you, love you madly.

If you could see the happy you and me
I dream about so proudly
You'd know the breath of spring makes me sing
My love song so loudly

Good things come to those who wait
So just relax and wait for fate
To let me see the day you say to me
I love you, love you madly
