

Star Five, Any One With Eyes

If I tried
May be I could stay alone here in my room
I would like
Find a corner in my mind that's free of you
Everywhere I turn, I see your face
You're even in my drinking glass
The beating of my heart
Is like a never blast that's going much too fast

Any one with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see
I can't believe it
Can't believe that like a sun a flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Like a storm in the sky
My love is pouring out like rain
It's a flood in my blood,
And it's running like a river through my veins
Everywhere I go
You seem to follow me like something in the air
Every tears of you
Are dancing in my mind I see you everywhere

Any one with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see
I can't believe it
Can't believe that like a sun flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Any one with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see
I can't believe it
Can't believe that like a sun flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me

Any one with eyes can see your love is blinding me
You're all I see
I can't believe it
Can't believe that like a sun flash of light your love is blinding me
Love is blinding me
