

Star Salzman, Hear See Feel

The way you laugh and talk with me
The way you tell me everything will be ok,
Some day
It's effecting me

I hear your voice, I turn around. youre all I'm hearing
I see your face, I see you smile, youre all I'm seeing
I feel your arms around me, I guess I must be dreaming

I can't hear anything but you
I can't see anything but you
I can't feel anything for anyone but you

When will you understand?

The way you walk, the way you smile
The way your eyes get lost in mine...
It's effecting me
The way you laugh, the way you cry
I don't have to wonder why, this thing I feel
I cannot feel the same without you
When I see you standing there it's hard to know what's real

I can't hear anything but you
I can't see anything but you
I can't feel anything for anyone but you

What you do to me...
It's hard to know where it began
What do you do to me?
That you could change my life...
Just by holding my hand?

It's effecting me

I feel you close, even when you're far away
But when you're near me every day is my favorite day

I want to hold you, I want to show you
More than words or songs could say

I can't hear anything but you
I can't see anything but you
I can't feel anything for anyone but you

I see the world in your face
I hear your voice and feel your embrace

The way I feel is clouding my perception
I cant see anything or anyone, I cant even hear the words to this song
But still I don't know if I'm getting through to you...

And now that you're here, what I want to see, is do you feel....
The same way about me?
