

Stars, The night stars here

The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
The pleasure car
The afterthought
The missing stone in the graveyard
The time we have
The task at hand
The love it takes
To become a man
The dust at dawn
Is reigned upon
Attaches itself
To everyone
No one is spared
No one is clean
It travels places
You've never been
Or seen before
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
You drop a coin
Into the sea
And shout out, "Please come back to me"
You name your child
After your fear
And tell them, "I have brought you here"
The pleasure part
The aftershock
The moment that
It takes to fall apart
The time we have
The task at hand
The love it takes
To destroy a man
The ecstasy
The being free
The big black cloud
over you and me
And after that
The upward fall
And we'll be angels
After all
I dont know
I dont know
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear

You drop a coin
Into the sea
And shout out, "Please come back to me"
You name your child
After your fear
And tell them, "I have brought you here"
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
You drop a coin
Into the sea
And shout out, "Please come back to me"
You name your child
After your fear
And tell them, "I have brought you here"
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
The night starts here
The night starts here
Forget your name
Forget your fear
You drop a coin
Into the sea
And shout out, "Please come back to me"
You name your child
After your fear
And tell them, "I have brought you here"