

Stars, Time Can Never Kill The True Heart

One step closer to the sea wall
Looking down, you can see all
Hold my hand so you don't fall
Catch your breath as the gulls call
One heart out of two
One life: me and you
One heart out of two
One life: me and you

Last mile in the pale light
Take me home with you tonight
We'll touch 'til it feels right
You won't say "love"; but I might
One heart out of two
One life: me and you
One heart out of two
One life: me and you

Made love and you muttered "we're through";
One heart but the mind was in two
One half filled with the dreams of a saint
The other filled with nothing but hate
I hope I die in the arms of a child
In a meadow where the thistles grow wild
One heart out of two
One life: me and you
One heart out of two
One life: me and you
