

Starsailor, Let It Shine

There were two girls
Coming back for me,
where my one true love should be.
I was walking down the county line.
Let it shine, let it shine.
Let it shine, let it shine.
I was born into a life of greed.
I had everything I'd need.
Then you told me
I was something more.
I'm not sure, I'm not sure.
I'm not sure, I'm not sure.

She stole her summer rain
From my window.
He tore the house apart
When she let him go.
She found it in her heart
To forgive him.
Ain't there a life outside
You're not living?
