

STARSET, Dystopia

are we lost in the night in a world lit just by gas light? we pretend that we can't feel the spiral growing into something real arrival

if we're in a simulation this could be an indication maybe they should turn it off and turn it back on again prepare for the end 3 2 1 oh

batten down the fucking hatches this is what you get when you still play with matches now we go back to sticks
back to stones cause the words broke our bones and we're right back to the same old habits too bad we almost had it abandon mission

they've jammed the system we've done all we can it's a brain dead waste land we don't need your education we just need more stimulation fuel for our obliteration setting it all aglo

it's gonna blow

lock your windows
close your doors and hide something wicked has got inside post-dramatic trauma addict high we're the victims of our device
