

Starship, Private Room

Know what she's done to me, and I have been around
She sure can bring you pleasure, and she can bring you down
I should not tell you, if you want to learn
To take a tip from me now, don't turn your back on her

When she's promising you pleasure all night long
She may turn around and cut you to the bone

Chorus:

In a private room, she'll dance for you
In a private room, with just her high heel shoes
In a private room, she'll take your heart
And with you under her control, she will leave you all alone, all alone

I was a midnight runner on her side of town
I used to get there early, to watch her dance around
She had this way of movin', to tantalize a crowd
When she lays eyes on you, you'd better watch out

While she's promising you pleasure all night long
She may turn around and cut you to the bone

In a private room, she'll dance for you
In a private room, with just her high heel shoes
In a private room, she'll take your heart
And when you're under her control, she will leave you all alone, all alone

She's no angel

Late at night she might get lonely, I know what she really needs
Someone who can hold her all night long, all night long, in a private room

In a private room, she'll dance for you, oh yeah
In a private room, with just her high heel shoes, not too much more
In a private room

In a private room, she'll dance, she'll dance, dance for you

Oh!
