

Status Quo, Gentleman Joe's Sidewalk Cafe

Hey Joe
Would you please lend me your ear?
I've got to know if everything's all right.
Hey Joe, have you seen my baby here?
Oh we used to share a table every night.
Hey Joe, she's the only girl who's ever
Meant anything at all
If I lose her I lose all

Joe, if you've seen her won't you say,
Or point in the direction she did go.

Every night, under the light of the moon
Under a table we'd choose, she'd take off her shoes
And rub her feet against mine

Joe, have you seen my baby here?
Oh we used to share a table every night.
Hey Joe, she's the only girl who's ever
Meant anything at all
If I lose her I lose all
Joe, if you've seen her won't you say,
Or point in the direction she did go.

Every night, under the light of the moon
Under a table we'd choose, she'd take off her shoes
And rub her feet against mine

Joe, would you please lend me your ear?
I've got to know if everything's all right.
Hey Joe, have you seen my baby here?
Oh we used to share a table every night
