

Status Quo, Josie

In view of the fact that there's a rumour going round
I feel that I'd better state my case
The problem is the misunderstandings that surround
Our latest excursions into space

Why, you may ask, do I still try
And penetrate beyond the endless sky
Up high

Let me look into your eyes Josie
Count the stars along the Milky Way
I won't leave you, not tonight Josie
If you'll try to love me, try to love me
Show me you do
The way that I love you

In spite of the difficulties met with at the start
The probe will be carried out as planned
The problem is now the big question of the human heart
And what kind of stress it can withstand

Where, you may ask, will all this end?
Well I can't say I really comprehend.

Let me look into your eyes Josie
Count the stars along the Milky Way
I won't leave you, not tonight Josie
If you'll try to love me, try to love me
Show me you do
The way that I love you

When I look into your eyes Josie
The world of man is very far away
Stay with me and let me hear you say
That you'll try to love me, try to love me
Show me you do
The way that I love you
