

Status Quo, Roll The Dice

(Rossi/Frost)

I walk along an empty street
I love the sounding of my feet
It makes me feel so good and though
There's nobody else around, not a soul

I'm quite content to take a seat
The council put there in the street
And watch the nothing going on
Can it really be so wrong all along
To want to have the best of both worlds
A winner once again

Roll roll roll, roll the dice
Pay pay pay, pay the price
Roll roll roll, gimme a roll
I wanna roll, roll the dice

I made a beeline for a bar
That I had noticed just before
I didn't bother going in
And then the feeling came again from within
To want to have the best of both worlds
A winner once again

Roll roll roll, roll the dice
Pay pay pay, pay the price
Roll roll roll, gimme a roll
I wanna roll, roll the dice
