

Stavesacre, The New Droan (Light Years Away)

if this is all that you want then this is all that i'll give but let me tell you this this isn't all that i've got but you would rather sit and you would rather stare floating along aimlessly while your orbit takes you nowhere let's get light years away from all the things that people say how could i tell you were feeling barely operational you asked me in the signal that you energized

the void appeared like a hole in the atmosphere the distress of your s.o.s. was all that i could hear

we share the same love
so we'll make way

i'll fight past
the gravity
just to leave and bring you back with me now we can resort to plan b where you can always count on me

we share the same love
so we'll make way
until everything else fades