

Steadman, Come Alive

Come alive and let the motion rock you
Let it send you off to sleep
Come inside there's nothing left to shock you
Now you've landed on your feet
Then after all the fun is over
You will still have all the memories
Come alive and see the world through all the trees

Come alive
You know it's more than breathing
Have to wrestle with your soul
Show it that you're close to understanding
Don't give up and think you're too old
And then after all the fun is over
You will still have all the memories
Come alive and see the world through all the trees

Feel the change rising up inside you
See the fear scare itself away
Find a road leading back to your life
Come alive give the rest away
Come alive give the rest away

And then after all the fun is over
You will still have all the memories
Come alive and see the world through all the trees
