

Steel Dragon, We All Die Young

Risk my soul, test my life
For my bread
Spend my time, lost in space
Am I dead
let the river flow
Through my callused hands
And Take me from my own
The eyes of the damn
Yeh it makes my stomach turn
And it tears my flesh from bone
Oooh we turn a dream to stone

And We all die young
And We all die Young
Tell me I know
I lived so afraid
And Still we cry alone with words left unsaid

Yeh, it makes my stomach turn
And it tears my flesh from bone
Now we turn a dream to stone

And We all die young
