

Stefan Andersson, I Believe In You

Come lie down here
Come and wrap your arms round a God-blessed man as tight as you can

Come lie down here
'cause I'm burning with love Come and guide my way in the dreams that we chase

I believe in, yeah I believe in you
I believe in everything that you do
From your heart
to your words of truth
I believe in, yeah I believe in you

Under my roof
Under my shield
I will comfort you with the love I yield

So if you ever need to cry come and cry by me
If I raise a smile
will it shine on me

I believe in, yeah I believe in you
I believe in everything that you do
From your heart
to your words of truth
I believe in, yeah I believe in laughter after shell-shocked days Tell you honey
we've had some faith in laughter after the days gone by I'll believe in you till the day I die
