

Stellastarr*, Homeland

At the edge of darkness
There was nothing left
And nobody could care about me
In your open window
I was passing time
With a friend in mind
I'm not your kind

Hello, we'll go away
Won't you come, I'll be gone today
Won't you come, your father's chasing you
Would you run, I'll be gone today
Won't you come

Come on down to my house
There's a swimming pool
And it's winning over everybody
In a town I call home
I would look at life
But it never seemed to be looking at me

Hello, we'll go away
Won't you come, I'll be gone today
Won't you come, your father's chasing you
Would you run, I'll be gone today
Won't you come

Hello, we'll go away
Won't you come, I'll be gone today
Won't you come, your father's chasing you
Would you run, I'll be gone today
Ohhhhh
Won't you come, I'll be gone away
Won't you come, I'll be gone today
Wont you come
