

Stellastarr*, Lost In Time

I'll stop the day
You'll rise again
Don't count the news man to signal the end
'Cause you can trust your farthest friends across the world

We'll take the car
You're in the room but your head's in the stars
You can run, but you can't hide who you are

He couldn't stay
Thanksgiving's gone
His growing children continue his song
He was young
Did nothing wrong

I tried to say I miss you tonight
And they claim you've already died
But the truth is that we're lost in time
We're lost in time
We're lost in time
We're losing time

These haunted dreams are brushed aside
We'll meet again
Another life

I tried to say I miss you tonight
And they claim you've already died
But the truth is that we're lost in time
We're lost in time
We're lost in time
We're losing time
Time...
