

Stellastarr*, Somewhere Across Forever

I'll run away with you
We can build a goldmine
We'll cross the Sahara child
Yes, I'll be the truth for you

Home life, no life, I've been livin' here without you
New home, New York, I've been livin' here without you
I've been awake, we can build our own world
We can run away from ourselves, if we knew who we were

Home life, no life, I've been livin' here without you
New home, New York, I've been livin' here without you
Blue eyes, blue hair, not going to leave here without you
Blew my chances, chances, chances, ooh, let's go

Home life, no life, I've been livin' here without you
New home, New York, I've been livin' here without you
Blue eyes, blue hair, not going to leave here without you
Blew my chances, chances, chances
Chances, chances, chances

“(Mandy's background vocals)
Here I am waiting without you

(Michael's background vocals)
Dreaming what you're seeing and knowing I could lead if it's all for you
Dreaming about something I know that I could lead if it's all for you (gonna leave here without you)
See it in your eyes, you needed me to be there when I was lost”

When I finally find the words, I'll be coming back to you
If I decide to rule the world, I'm still coming back for you
For you, for you, for you
For you, for you, for you
For you, for you, for you
For you, for you, for you
For you, for you, for you
For you