

Stem, Spit Against The Wind

Let's go through line
From line so far apart
To shorter ways
Till I find my way in
But What if I do
Will I find my way out
Just keep it safe
It takes time to heal

Have you ever cheated
Tick what you haven't done
We can make this look like
A better world
So let your body
Let everybody go
Spit against the wind
Am I crazy or what

Just another dream I cried myself into
Vital patterns fade though somewhat keeps them tuned
Some routines stay just to fuck me up
Am I blessed for being alive
Do we need to be better than we already are

Ref:
Count from the day before
So close yet far away
I begin my downfall
The cycle stays the same

It's the longest I've waited
For things to turn around
You said it's gonna be easy
For me to seem undone
So hard to define
Which way to betray
I've got a whole new brand of misery

Into your heart
Into your soul
Leaving none alive

Restrictions impose
Serious threat
Saving us all

Into my heart
Into my soul
Leaving none alive

Stuffed insane
Yours in vain
Stretched to unknown
