

Stepa, Spaceships And Airplanes

Two worlds, body and soul, I ask, I already know
Besides what did he ever do? Nothing, come to
He was a boy without a care he had a castle of his own
He was a boy who never knew that he would never know
He was a boy without a care he had a castle of his own
He was a boy, there he goes
I am with you wherever you are right now
I was beside myself but now I feel I'm found
I am with you wherever you are right now
Spaceships and airplanes eventually go falling down
You're through, spread your wings, I can't remember to breathe
Say bye, that I'll never do, it's fine, souls in bloom
Let him go free and strong you are now lucky one
He never knew, he'd never know
Say good bye, I'll never do