

Stephen Kellogg, Chasm And Cross

I'm coming down today
Jesus you told me
Got to make a stand
Then its only
A mercury cross and a picture frame
The thought that I lost
And another man's shame

Can you give me more
To fill me up
Make me whole
To understand whats in my heart
So can you take me there
A place where no one ever needs
And no one bites the hand that feeds
There's no divorce and there's no disease
Jesus can you take me,
Can you take me,
Can you take me

I forgot when I seem to make mistakes
But I guess its just the price that we pay
I only want to be let in
But you somehow,
Somehow you call this livin'.

Take away what hurts
Forget my song, forget my joy
Forget the things that you enjoy
Just treat me like a little boy when
Forget my song, forget my joy
Forget the things that you employ
Could you treat me like a little boy when
It's always I.
Its I .
It's never you, No.
Its always I.
