

Stephen Marley, Cool As The Breeze

When the wind blows
I can hear your voice
Coming through the clouds
And when the sun shines
I can see your smile
Right into my eyes

You're with me everyday
You're never far away
Smiling 'cause you please
You're just as cool as the breeze

And when my work is done
Where many rivers run
We'll be laughing having fun
Yes, I know this day will come

Cause when the wind blows
I can hear your voice
Coming through the clouds

And when the sun shines
I can see your smile
Right into my eyes

No matter where I roam
I know I'm not alone
You're the birds and the bees
Yes, as far as I can see

And I know someday
Yes, somehow, some way
We will greet again
Yes, it's good to know 'till then

When the wind blows
I can hear your voice
Coming through the clouds

And when the sun shines
I can see your smile
Right into my eyes

You're with me everyday
You ain't far away
Smiling 'cause you please
You're just as cool as the breeze

And when all my work is done
Where many rivers run
Laughing having fun
Yes, I know the day will come

Cause when the wind blows
I can hear your voice
Coming through them clouds

And when the sun shines
Shine into my eyes

Until we meet again
Until we meet again
My works will never go in vain

I do the best I can

Until we meet again

Until we meet again

The sun, the moon, the stars that shine

I see you in all of them

Until we meet again
