Stephen Stills, Guardian Angel

by Stephen Stills & amp;#169; 1976 Gold Hill Music

There's a guardian angel Watching over you, yes Better mind your ways Just might leave on you In the darkness Who else is really with you? Only you alone Got to live with you all the time When there's no more time And nothing left to do Who will hear you? Who will hear your heart? Your guardian angel, yeah. Who are these kindred spirits? Would you know them if they stood in front of you? They come below The longing beseech at you Trying to telephone Someone might listen for a while When there's no more time And nothing left to do Who will hear you? Who will hear your heart? Your guardian angel, yeah. When a passing stranger Looks away from you An uneasy feeling Starts coming over you Somebody watching somewhere Maybe today it's you Comes a desperate urge to run Guardian angel, where are you? When there's no more time And nothing left to do Who will hear you? Who will hear your heart? Your guardian angel, yeah.
