

Stereo Fuse, Live Like A God

I can see you lookin' for another quick fix
I can see you lookin' for a brand new life
I see confusion in your eyes
With every lie now your soul dies

Yes you live like a god you shine like the sun
And you want to be everything to everyone

So you think that it may be a little too late
Everything inside your soul has turned to hate
I see confusion in your eyes
With every lie now your soul dies

Yes you live like a god you shine like the sun
And you want to be everything to everyone

You're not the only one who feels this world has come undone
You're not the only one who's lost their faith in everyone

Yes you live like a god you shine like the sun
And you want to be everything to everyone
