

Stereo MC's, Creation

Ooh yeah... yeah yeah (x3)

Talking about creation
I'm talking about relations
I'm talking about creation
We need a combination

Gimme no slack and I bring it right back
Cos the punch I pack is gonna come with a smack
Cos I'm like that, exactly like that
And if I slip there's no excuse for that
It gets deep but I can't control
The road is steep and full of pit holes
Cheap and nasty sophistication
But all I seeing is pure creation
A solo station for civilization
Congregating in another dimension
Don't ask me why I don't understand it
It's just the way nature planned it

I'm talking about creation
I'm talking about relations
I'm talking about creation
We need a combination

Ooh yeah... yeah yeah

To a hairs breath how we gonna do it
You want to look but you knew it you blew it
Out of proportion no I don't think so
This thing's bigger than both of us so
Drop your anchor and weigh your thoughts
Like mega ton bombs dropping on your front porch
A real summer breeze that's gonna be
When they don't exist and neither do we

I'm talking about creation
I'm talking about relations
I'm talking about creation
We need a combination (x2)

I don't shirk the work come strong like Hercules
Till I seize your heartbeat and make it freeze
So you know I'm authentic
And when I said that I don't let up I really meant it

I'm full of beans co s I eat my greens
I'm like Mr Lean I love the way you scream
I see jungles forests rivers streams
Grand Canyon mountains seas and living beings
Sweet dreams are made of these things
And the power to raise up my limbs
To all these gifts I wanna dedicate
Every hour I spend and every second I take

Cos I'm talking about creation
I'm talking about relations
I'm talking about creation
We need some combination

Ooh yeah... yeah yeah (x2)

That's the way nature planned

I'm talking about creation
I'm talking about relation
I'm talking about creation
We need some motivation

Ooh yeah... yeah yeah
